

Visceral Diary Drawings

Dominic Quagliozi

These drawings are intuitive diary entries capturing my physical and emotional states during my double lung transplant journey. They mark moments in time on the transplant waiting list with lung failure, meditations on what receiving the transplant might be like, and documenting the realities of post-transplant life. Some of these drawings were made in real time during hospitalizations.

I am Support Devices, 2014

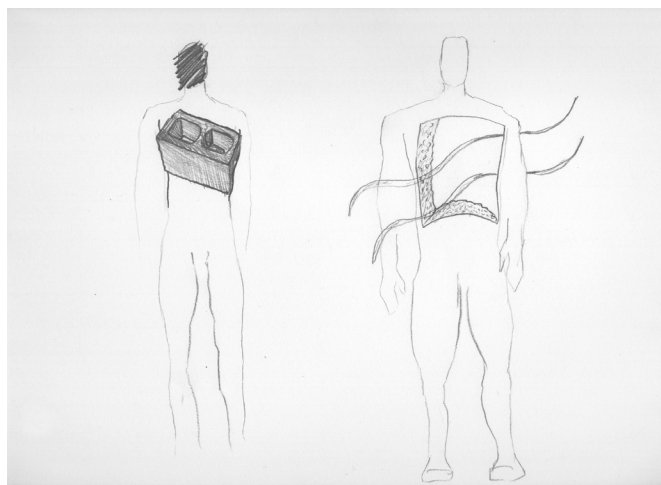

Pre-transplant

Lung Transplant Fantasy, 2014

Pre-transplant

Cinder Block Chest and Breeze, 2015

One-month post-transplant

My Immune System is Pills, 2015

Three-months post-transplant

Smile You're Alive, 2017

Two-years post-transplant

About the Artist

Dominic Quagliozi is a visual artist living and working in Massachusetts, US. He makes work about his lived experience with chronic illness and being a lung transplant recipient. ArtistDominic.com. Instagram: ArtistDominic Email: Dominic.Quagliozi@gmail.com